DETAILED OFFICE ACTION

1. Claims 1-23 are presented for examination. The serial numbers of the provisional application and related applications are requested in response to this Office action. The attorney docket numbers should also be removed from the specification. The declaration and power of attorney sheets name Ned Gladstone and Edward T. Gladstone as inventors, however, only Edward T. Gladstone's signature is present. It appears Ned and Edward are the same person. Perhaps a new declaration should be filed with all the inventors proper names and signatures.

2. The examiner requests, in response to this Office action, any reference(s) known to qualify as prior art under 35 U.S.C. sections 102 or 103 with respect to the instant claims. That is, any prior art similar to the instant claimed invention that could reasonably be used in a 102/103 rejection. This request does not require applicant to perform a search. This request is not intended to interfere with or go beyond that required under 37 C.F.R. 1.56 or 1.105. This request may be fulfilled simply by asking the attorney(s) of record handling prosecution and the inventor(s)/assignee for references qualifying as prior art. A simple statement that the query has been made and no prior art found is sufficient to fulfill the request. Otherwise, along with a 102/103 submission a discussion of why the reference(s) qualifies as prior art with respect to the instant claims is requested. A response to this inquiry is greatly appreciated.

The examiner also requests, in response to this Office action, support be shown for language added to the claims on amendment. That is, indicate support for newly added claim language by specifically pointing to page(s) and line no(s). in the specification and/or drawing figure(s). This will assist the examiner in prosecuting the application.

3. Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, lines 7-8, the language "storage server and/or controller" is unclear.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Voigt et al. (Pat. No. 5,960,451).

Voigt teaches the claimed "one or more hosts" as computer 22 and/or computers coupled to network 36. The claimed "plurality of data storage elements" correspond to memory 44, 42 and data storage system 24. The claimed "host network attachment" corresponds to circuitry inherently found in computer system 20 for connecting the memory to the network. The claimed "storage server/controller" corresponds to circuitry including RAID management system 56 and/or controllers 54a, 54b. The claimed "permanent data storage media" corresponds to non-volatile memory 44. The claimed "management information" corresponds to parameters/preferences such as physical capacity, number of storage disks, allocated capacity, characteristics of the RAID, percentage to be used (col. 2, line 55 – col. 3 , line 2), performance (col. 4, line 16) and availability (col. 7, lines 26-42). The claimed "units of data" corresponds to the logical storage units (LUNs). The claimed function of "management information may be manipulated" corresponds to altering characteristics/parameters of the RAID or logical storage units (LUNs).

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103 (a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 C.F.R. § 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of potential 35 U.S.C. § 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a).

5. Claims 2-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Voigt (Pat. No. 5,960,451).

Voigt teaches the invention substantially as claimed as discussed above in section 3. However, official notice is taken of the prior art teaching any claim feature not specifically discussed above. That is, any prior art (including that of record) teaching the more well known claim features commonly found in the dependent claims. The claim features, while part of the invention, appear to be well known and their relevance not essential to the main invention found in the independent claim(s). Thus, a detailed discussion of the well known claim features is not warranted at this time. Applicant is invited to comment on any claim feature(s) deemed to be patentably distinguishable from the prior art. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine the primary reference with the officially taken prior art given the state of the art at the time the well known claim features were invented.
